Three cartoon characters are shown from the chest up, wearing space helmets and floating on a diagonal grey rope. The top character has a red helmet with a yellow feather. The middle character has a yellow helmet with a green feather. The bottom character has a blue helmet with an orange feather. All helmets have white straps and clear visors showing brown faces. The background is a light blue gradient with a white curved shape on the right.

An illustration of a person surfing on a wave. The scene is divided into three horizontal bands: a light tan top band with a large white circle (sun or moon), a dark blue middle band representing the water, and a light blue bottom band representing the wave's face. A black silhouette of a tree is on the left. A white, swirling cloud-like line represents the wave's crest, with a small black silhouette of a surfer riding it. The text 'DOWN THE LINE' is in the top right, and 'Down the line' is in a tan oval in the bottom left.
